You are not alone! Work Hard!

‘You reap what you sow’ is more than just an old saying. Sitting for DSE is a tough battle and you have to be well prepared for it. I still remember when I just promoted to S6, I got tons of work to do and I felt so stressed. Luckily, teachers encouraged me to focus on every little thing I do. After I finished a small step, I could get closer to my goal. I learnt how to ease my pressure and have a good time management. When I felt stressed, I would listen to music and eat snacks. Sometimes I would take a nap to recharge myself.

For each subject, I prepared a notebook for taking notes. It might be troublesome to do so but it was very useful. Especially for the electives, I marked down all the mistakes I made in past paper and exercises so that I could recall my memory easily when I read my notes.

My dear fellow schoolmates who are going to sit for the DSE, remember, always get support from your friends and teachers. You don’t have to face the battle alone. Don’t hesitate if you come up with any question – discuss it with your friends or ask our teachers! Believe in yourself and it is never too late for you to make a difference. Your hard work will soon pay off!
